

Carole Wilson

Having spent her initial formative years in Pitt County, Carole became an ECU Pirate at a very young age. Her passion for volunteering and helping wherever possible strengthened her commitment to ECU with its motto being "Servire." While an undergraduate in the Child Development & Family Relations (CDFR) program, she served on the CDFR student committee and in other volunteer organizations. She enhanced her CDFR degree with a Psychology minor and Alcohol/Drug Rehabilitation certificate. Her CDFR degree provided the necessary "human" skills while her MBA from ECU gave her the technical skills to work in the software development industry for 20+ years, in a variety of areas from customer support to trainer to development, quality assurance and product manager. She later pursued a Conflict Management & Resolution Post-Baccalaureate Certificate. Carole joined Higher Education in 2004 serving as Finance Business Systems Analyst at UNCW prior to returning ECU as the Director of Systems Coordination. In addition, Carole has 2 dogs, Dusty and Dori, and serves on the Pitt County Animal Services Advisory Board. She greatly believes we all have something of value to share and can learn from each other while ensuring ECU continues to provide value to Eastern North Carolina, the state, the nation and the world.
